

The World Needs Care

I will change the world by...
Watching nature with every eye,
Caring for it all the time
And cleaning of the dust and grime.

If you refuse, then I'd ask "why?"
I'll have animals by my side.
Even fish under the sea,
Don't harm them, just let them be.

I won't waste resources every day,
Instead of wasting I'll just say;
"I need to take care of the world now."
I will try, but really, how?

We, all of us, should work together,
To try to make the world better.
We should plant things all the time,
Everything from pumpkins to limes.

But if anyone just happen to ask,
"This is too much of a task...
I have everything I need,
I don't want to plant a seed."

Well, I can tell you everything,
The one thing we should now be doing,
Reduce-Reuse-Recycling!

That's what is really causing trash,
Plants are turning into ash.
Earth shall be saved from now on;
I don't want nature to be gone.

Name: Maria Sagalaeva
Title: The World Needs Care
Category: Literature
Division: Intermediate
PTA: Louisa May Alcott 2.8.3, ID: 0208003